

Dropbox Reseller Program Guide

Program overview

At Dropbox, we believe in delivering great products that simplify the way people work together, and we value partners who share our vision. The Dropbox Reseller Program (the “Program”) is designed to provide the training, systems and tools necessary for partners to present and support Dropbox to their customers.

Program Guide

This Dropbox Reseller Program Guide (the “Program Guide”) details how partners are eligible to participate in the Dropbox Reseller Program. The Program Guide terms are in addition to, and incorporated into, the terms of the Reseller Agreement (the “Agreement”) entered into between the parties. In the event that any term of this Program Guide conflicts with any term of the Agreement, including any addenda thereto, the terms of this Program Guide will control to the extent of such conflict unless expressly stated otherwise.

Distributors and countries

Partners may only market, promote, and resell the Service in those countries where a Distributor is authorized. See the list of distributors and countries.

Joining the Dropbox Reseller Program

1. Go to dropbox.com/business/partners
2. Complete the application and accept the Reseller Agreement
3. Log in to the Dropbox Partner Portal and take the online training
4. Use your Reseller ID to purchase licenses for resale from an authorized Distributor
5. Request any new internal use licenses (IULs)
6. Resell Dropbox to customers

Program membership

Dropbox determines a partner's membership level through the investment in training and sales. Higher levels of engagement and performance qualify partners for an advanced level of membership. The Program features three levels of membership: Registered, Select, and Elite.

Qualification criteria

After joining the Program, partners are only eligible for the Program Benefits after they satisfy the Program Requirements including those on the next page and any other then-current requirements.

Evaluation period

Dropbox will evaluate Program participants annually to ensure they continue to meet the requirements for their specific level in the Program. If Dropbox determines that a partner does not meet the requirements for their level, Dropbox may transition that partner out of the specific level, or out of the Program entirely. In the latter case, all Program Benefits will immediately cease.

Support

Partners will be responsible for providing professional and thorough support to customers, as set forth below. Dropbox may, in its sole discretion, provide support directly to customers or refer customers to partner for resolution. Dropbox may offer to modify certain terms set forth below with respect to support, and any special terms will be agreed upon by Dropbox and the partner in writing.

If the partner becomes aware of a Level 2 or Level 3 issue that cannot be resolved with assistance from the distributor, the partner will provide notice of the issue to Dropbox in the timeframes set forth below.

If the customer or partner reports an incident requiring Level 2 or Level 3 support, upon reporting the incident (via phone, email, or web), the incident will be assigned a unique Support ID number by Dropbox.

The timeframes below are applicable to partners with (1) a marketplace with log-in-as-user functionality, AND (2) a team admin who has enabled Reseller Support. Partners who do not meet those two requirements are expected to provide Level 1 support set forth below, and after getting assistance from their Distributor via an escalation, advise the end-user to sign into their Dropbox Business Admin Console and escalate to Dropbox directly via dropbox.com/team/admin/help.
